IV: Committee Reports

[Presented by President Bex Campbell to conserve time.]

- Membership-
President Campbell reported current AADC membership at 201 and she welcomed new members. President Campbell thanked Membership Committee members for their help with reminder phone calls, room set up, and hosting Coffee and Conversation.
- Community Events Committee-
President Campbell encouraged AADC members interested in canvassing efforts for Yes on Prop 5 to talk to canvass coordinator: Gail Bartlow, Sandy Floyd, Mark Havener, or Tomas Vera. She reported that the Auburn area canvassing efforts have knocked 1,030 doors so far and have connected with 432 people.

The No Kings event, sponsored by Auburn Indivisible, will be held on October 18 at the corner of Bell & 49 from 11 to 12:30. Pat Ferguson reminded people to sign up on mobilize.

- Voter Registration-
Since August the Voter Registration teams on Sierra campus have registered 40 students, including 20 Democrats.
- Fundraising-
No fundraising news at this time.
- Communications-
President Campbell thanked members who had recent articles published in local news on matters important to AADC: promoting the AADC Community Forum on Healthcare; supporting Prop 50; and holding Congressman Kevin Kiley accountable.

AADC members were reminded to share, like, and comment (in this specific order) on all Democratic posts, especially local ones.

V. Strategic Planning Session

- Welcome & Framing- Bex Campbell
President Bex Campbell informed members that leadership opportunities in AADC are available and nominations for officers are currently open. She briefly described each officer position: President, Vice-President, Treasurer, and Secretary.

President Campbell explained the purpose for tonight's strategic planning session: To determine AADC club objectives for 2026 by reviewing what we've been doing and envisioning what we want to do in the future. She called attention to the Timeline of Events posted on the wall in back and provided as a handout.

Julann Brown explained the format: Attendees will divide into groups to address one of 5 objectives: (1) Electing Democrats to Public Office; (2) Promoting Democratic Values and Participation in Democracy; (3) Advocating for Local Issues; (4) Providing a Social Forum for Democrats, and (5) Sustaining and Growing AADC as an Organization.

A spokesperson for each group reported the top 3 ideas discussed in their group.

VII. Member Announcements
